

Guaranteed ADvantage Accidental Death Insurance Reflex Process

Use this FAQ sheet to help answer questions your client may have about Accidental Death insurance.

1. What is Accidental Death (AD) insurance?

Accidental Death insurance is a form of insurance that pays a sum of money if you die by accidental death. Death must occur within 365 days (in California, 90 days) of the accident. Death as a result of an illness does not qualify.

2. I have disability insurance through work. Do I need AD insurance, too?

Yes. The disability coverage only pays if you become disabled. The AD coverage would give you protection from an accidental death.

3. I have term life insurance, why should I purchase an accidental death policy?

AD coverage can be a great supplement to an existing term life policy as AD insurance pays a sum of money to a beneficiary should you die from an accident. AD coverage is typically inexpensive compared to a life insurance policy. If you cannot afford the life insurance premium or you don't qualify for life insurance coverage, you can purchase an AD policy to provide the additional protection.

4. Is some insurance like accidental death insurance better than no insurance?

Yes. The fact is, most deaths will occur in one of two ways — either from a sickness or from an accident. Having AD coverage provides you with protection from an accidental death.

5. What is the difference between life insurance and accidental death insurance?

The primary difference is the cause the death in regard to both types of insurance. Life insurance covers death from a sickness and an accident. AD insurance only provides protection from an accidental death.

6. What are some of the top features of Guaranteed ADvantage from Mutual of Omaha?

AD coverage from Mutual of Omaha is guaranteed issue — everyone within the eligible age range qualifies. The policy also provides two times the benefit amount for accidental death in a common carrier and an additional 25 percent of the benefit amount for accidental death while driving or riding in a private automobile or being struck by any motor vehicle. In addition, you may purchase family coverage for your spouse and/or children.

7. How much does AD insurance cost? * Does the premium go up as I age?

AD insurance can be affordable. For example, a premium may be about $15 a month (actual premium payment determined at time of application) for a 35-year-old male needing $100,000 in coverage. Furthermore, premiums are guaranteed to remain the same for the first five years you own the policy. After five years, Mutual of Omaha has the right to change premiums but can only do so if premiums are adjusted across the board for all AD policies.

* Please reference M28012, the Product and Rate Guide for information. The guide is available through normal

8. Is anyone in my family also covered?

Yes, you can elect to have family coverage. Spouse is covered at 100 percent of the benefit amount and all children are covered at 20 percent of benefit amount.

9. What if the accidental death occurs while I'm at work? Is the situation covered?

Yes, this insurance covers accidental deaths that occur while at work. The policy is guaranteed issue and occupation is not taken into consideration when reviewing the application. If you had a policy and died accidentally at work, you would be covered.

10. When does my coverage start?

Coverage begins as soon as the app is issued and premium payment is processed by Mutual of Omaha.

11. I'm not the healthiest person, can I still qualify for coverage?

Yes, this product is a nice alternative to life insurance for people who are unable to get life coverage because they have a medical condition. For example, a heart condition may prevent an individual from qualifying for life coverage, but he or she would be able to purchase accidental death coverage.

12. Does the Return of Premium rider still provide cash back if the policy is cancelled for any reason other than death?

The ROP benefit will provide a percentage of all the premiums paid minus any amount of claims already paid. The percentage received is based on the number of years the rider has been in force.
